

INSTITUTE FOR RESEARCH ON DIGITAL LITERACIES PRESENTS

INTERMEDIARIES AND LABOR HETEROGENEITY

IN CHINA'S PLATFORM ECONOMY

Julie Yujie Chen

Digital platforms that facilitate local on-demand service and online crowd-work are the latest corporate actors in the decades-long process of global economic restructuring.

In this talk, professor Julie Yujie Chen from the University of Toronto will examine digital labor in China. She will analyze the shifting material conditions and social relations that pave the way for China's booming platform economy.

Chen studies the transformation of work in relation to the digital technologies, capitalism, and globalization.

November 5th, 2021
10:00 - 11:00 AM
via ZOOM

For event details
and registration visit
irdl.info.yorku.ca/events

